

NATIVE BEES!

Rutgers Certified Master Gardener of Hunterdon County
Jean Miller

Learn about the native bee populations that help pollinate one-third of our food and natural landscapes. An apiarist describes the different native bees found in New Jersey, how they are different from honey bees and what you can do in you garden to encourage and support our native bees.

Free Webex Virtual Webinar
Tuesday, Sept. 29 @ 7pm

To Register: <https://bit.ly/2EMRK4H>