

Financial Skills for Women: Building Blocks in Financial Awareness

with Ash Rajan of Investments at Janney Montgomery Scott

Ash Rajan, VP of Investments, will present an educational workshop preparing women with basic financial awareness and skills. This 45-minute workshop was designed as a primer for professional women and women in life transitions.

Well educated, over-achieving women are still delegating their investment decisions to the men in their lives and life transitions such as a spousal death or divorce often render these otherwise well educated women stranded and alone in navigating their finances. A foundation series on Retirement and/or transferring wealth efficiently to children will be discussed by Ash. It will be simple, direct and engaging.
