Delaware Valley Bead Society Fall Members Exhibit
November 2nd – 29th at the Hunterdon County Library, Flemington,
NJ

Twenty three members of the Delaware Valley Bead Society are exhibiting unique handcrafted jewelry and fashion accessories from November 2nd through 29th in the showcases of the first floor lobby of the Hunterdon County Library.

The jewelry and beadwork techniques used to create the 45 individual pieces include bead crochet, bead embroidery, bead stringing, beadweaving, enameling, freeform beadweaving, loom beadweaving, Niobium metalwork, metalwork, wire weaving and wire wrapping.

Some of the jewelry pieces in the exhibit are available for sale after the close of the exhibit, Tuesday, November 29th. There is a price list available at the exhibit. Anyone interested in purchasing work should contact Jean West at 908-797-3656 or jean.west@earthlink.net

Individuals interested in beading, jewelry making or future membership in the DVBS are welcome to attend a meeting to get acquainted with the Society. The next meeting of the Bead Society will be at 7 pm on Tuesday, November 16th in the Municipal Court Meeting Room in the Raritan Township Police Department Building, One Municipal Court, Flemington, NJ. The DVBS 2022 meetings begin in February. Visit the DVBS website to see the meeting announcements in 2021/2022 and to register as a guest to attend a meeting.
